

Lee,

Most often people send an email to complain about something. We want to thank you for the great service that you and your crew provided to us when we had damage to our home.

After the great snow storm during the winter of 2010, we noticed water dripping through our windows. Then it started dripping through the ceiling. Once we realized that ice damming in our gutters was causing this we called G.S. Jones. After you came to analyze the situation, you had your crew there asap. We were extremely satisfied with everyone that worked in our home and with the quality of work that was performed. Everyone that we dealt with every step of the way was great and made a tough situation less stressful!

We can not thank you enough for the great service that you provided and I would recommend you to anyone that can utilize your services.

Regards,
John & Jody Bechtold
